

Lesson 3:

Healing Intentions

How we choose to serve.

Spending time understanding and relating to your healing intention helps create a center from which to work. This in itself is a resource that can guide your service.

What is your healing intention?

Is there anything that needs to change in your practice so that your service can be more aligned with your healing intention?

